Driver Drowsiness Detection System Project: Introduction:

The Driver Drowsiness Detection System is a project designed to detect when a driver is feeling drowsy or fatigued while driving. This system uses various sensors and algorithms to monitor the driver's behavior and physical condition, and alerts the driver when drowsiness is detected.

Goals of the Project

Improve road safety:

By detecting and alerting drivers to drowsiness, this system can help prevent accidents and reduce the risk of injury or death.

Reduce driver fatigue:

By monitoring driver behavior and physical condition, this system can help drivers become more aware of their own fatigue levels and take steps to stay alert and focused on the road.

Component used this project:

Adriano, IR sensor,ECG/EEG sensors, camera and 5v Relay etc.

Software: OpenCv
